The Bachelors' Ball.

The Jolly Bachelors are putting on a big dance at Ducholke's Hall on the evening of Wednesday next, Victoria Day. Invitations have been issued by the Committee, and only those who are in receipt of one may gain admission. The luncheon will be attended to by a caterer from Edmonton; while a treat is in store for those who trip the light fantastic, as the noted musicians from the City, Hart's Bell Orchestra, will supply the music for the dances.

New Site for S. P. School.

Hon. Geo. Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture, has had the announcement made that an eight-acre plot of land on the local Demonstration Farm about to be disposed of by the Government, will be given to the local school district as a site for a new school building.

Regarding the sale of the Farm proper, the Minister states that two inquiries have been made quite recently by prospective purchasers, and his Department expects to have no difficulty in making a sale of the Farm before next fall, despite the fact that there were no tenders received when it was put on the market last month. The part of the Farm to be turned over to the School Board comprises the plot south of the present school site.

This grant of land will not interfere with the portion of the Farm which the Government intends reserving for experimental work lying in the town limits.

Rifle Club Reorganises.

Stony Plain Rifle Club reorganised on Saturday night last, for the season of 1922. The meeting was held in the Royal Parlors, with The Mayor presiding. A good attendance of members was present, and about 30 renewed their membership for this season.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Murd McKinlay, president and captain.

F. W. Landy, Secretary-treasurer.

Some discussion took place on the suitability and dependability of some of the rifles provided last season for the shoots, and a resolution carried that the Militia Department be requested to substitute good rifles for those found deficient.

The members of the committee are each to be the head of a firing squad, and is to bring his men to the Butts on an appointed day.

Some of the members present were in favor of having a shoot on the morning of Victoria Day, Wednesday next. Others thought that this arrangement might interfere with the preparations for the big Comet Picnic, and the Committee took the matter under advisement.

Upon two or three members present each announcing himself as the prize shot of the club, strong exception was taken by a few others; and some keen competition is expected when the season opens and the bullets begin to fly.

Freight Rates And Business

A special committee of the House of Commons has been appointed to study the whole question of freight rates with a view to bringing about a reduction in the existing high schedule, which, it is generally agreed, is having a detrimental effect on business, is operating to prevent a revival in industrial activity, and is particularly paralyzing to Western agriculture.

The problem of reducing rates in the face of an annual deficit of many millions of dollars in the operation of the National Railways is admittedly a difficult one. The National Railways badly need every dollar of revenue they can get, and a substantial reduction in freight charges may prove a very serious matter for them. Yet anything less than a substantial cut will be quite ineffective in providing a much needed stimulus to business and an appreciable aid to the farmers of the country.

There is, however, much force in the argument that a lowering in the carrying charges of the railways will not necessarily mean a reduction in net revenue earned. On the contrary, it is well within the realms of probability that the result would be an increase in revenue. Present rates are perilously close to the line where they amount to actual prohibition of traffic, and if a reduction of rates has the effect of stimulating business and thereby increasing traffic the earnings of the railways may easily record increases rather than the much feared decreases.

Support for this view is found in a comparative study of the figures of revenue and expenditure of Canadian railways for the years 1920 and 1921. Freight rates were increased in September, 1920, and partly reduced in January, 1921, and in December, 1921. If the argument of those opposed to rate reductions is good, then the deficits in operation of the railways should have been greater in 1921 than in 1920. Yet the reverse was the case. The deficit on the old Canadian Northern system was nearly $10,000,000 less in 1921 than in the previous year; the deficit on what are known as the Canadian Government Railways, chiefly the Intercolonial, was almost cut in two, being reduced by $5,000,000; the Grand Trunk Pacific, which showed a loss of $10,000,000 in 1920, dropped to just under $4,000,000 in 1921.

These three roads between them showed a deficit in operation for 1921 of something over $16,000,000 where in 1920 the total was over $27,000,000. The operating profit of the old Grand Trunk was increased and so, too, was that of the Canadian Pacific.

Of course, there may have been, and undoubtedly were, other factors contributing to the betterments shown. Nevertheless, the figures would seem to point to the conclusion that rate reductions were not in themselves disastrous, but that, on the contrary, they proved beneficial and were contributing factors in bringing about a marked improvement in railway finances.

Admitting, however, for the sake of argument that substantial rate reductions will result in an increase in the operating deficit of the Canadian National Railways, the question arises whether it would not be better to face that possibility and meet the loss out of general taxation for a year or two, if through such reduction in rates, there was marked encouragement given to agriculture, manufacturing and business generally throughout the Dominion, with a consequent lessening in unemployment and increased buying power by the people and some return of prosperity.

The present deficit on the Canadian National Railways is a heavy one, and constitutes a very real burden for Canadian taxpayers. It is almost more than they can bear, because, through lack of employment and general business depression, they have not the money. No matter how light taxes may be people cannot pay them without money and in the absence of means of earning money. But with a return of business activity and more employment the people would be able to more easily pay even somewhat heavier taxes, if necessary, to meet a slightly larger railway deficit.

The railways are one of the chief agencies in the upbuilding of trade and commerce, and if their rates are maintained at a level so high as to restrict traffic, they are not benefiting either themselves or the people and country they lay the golden eggs.

The experiment of enforcing a substantial reduction in freight rates as a means of reviving business throughout Canada, and giving some much needed encouragement to agricultural production, may well be tried at this time.

Japan Buying Lumber

Japanese Government Bans Production of Lumber from Native Forests

According to Mr. J. Sato, of Kobe, who arrived in Victoria with a party of Japanese lumber and pulpwood buyers, said to represent $35,000,000, Japan is to make an unprecedented demand for Vancouver Island lumber this year. The principal reason for this heavy foreign buying is that Japan has banned the production of lumber from native forests.

Recalls Days of Nelson

Mary Ann Carr, Born on Nelson Ship, is Dead at Age of 85

Mary Ann Carr, who was born in the cockpit of Nelson's ship, Victory, near the spot where the famous Admiral fell, has just died at Port Moody, at the age of 85.

Her memory of the early days aboard the ship was fresh up to within a few days of her death. She once saw a sailor flogged. The picture of the man suffering remained vivid in her mind through her long life. Only once did she see such a sight for on other occasions she was sent ashore to be spared the spectacle.

Overcrowded Britain

An eminent statesman reminded me the other day that in spite of the war the population of Britain has increased by 2,000,000 during the last decade. He asked me whether I thought the country could support them all, and I replied in the negative, suggesting that emigration is the only remedy. The trouble is that our surplus is among townpeople and not the rural workers needed by new countries.—London Sunday Pictorial.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

When the Blood is Out of Order the Nerves Are Starved

The nerve system is the governing system of the whole body, controlling the heart, lungs, digestion and brain; so it is not surprising that nervous disturbances cause acute distress. The first stages of nervous debility are noted by irritability and restlessness, in which the victims seem to be oppressed by their nervous surplus. They require immediate attention, for nothing but suitable treatment will prevent a breakdown. The matter, however, need not despair, for even severe nervous disorders may be reversed by the improvement of the condition of the blood. It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood that they are so effective in nervous disorders. The nerves thrive on the better blood made by these pills. The value of these pills in cases of this kind is shown by the experience of Mrs. John W. Macdonald, a Canadian, who writes:—"I have much cause to be grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was suffering from nervous breakdown and my condition gave alarm to both my friends and myself. I suffered almost constantly from nervous headaches, my appetite was poor, I hardly got any sleep, and in every way I was badly run down. My friends advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after I had taken them for a while there was a noticeable improvement in my condition. I continued using the pills until I had taken twelve boxes, when every symptom of the trouble was gone, and I have since enjoyed the best of health."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Farmer Premiers

Five of the Provincial Premiers Are Farmers by Occupation

When the Premier of Manitoba makes the point that he is a farmer he calls attention to the fact that farmer premiers are quite common in Canada. Leaders of the Ontario and Alberta Governments are farmers both politically and by occupation. The Premiers of Manitoba and British Columbia are Liberals in politics and farmers by occupation. The Premier of Saskatchewan is a farmer in politics and is a farmer by occupation. This accounts for five of the nine provincial premiers. Three of the others are lawyers, and the fourth a merchant.—Vancouver Province.

"Two years ago her health began failing and she suffered terribly from indigestion, gas on the stomach and heart palpitation. Her head and back pained her continually and she had nervous spells when she would shake like a leaf. Finally her strength left her entirely and she was confined to her bed for one solid year."

"Everything possible was done for her and almost as a last resort, had her try Tanlac. After taking it awhile she began to improve, and to-day her health is fully restored. She is not only in splendid health, but she has gained fifteen pounds in weight. I honestly believe Tanlac saved her life, and I am more than grateful."

Wishes Lloyd George Success

Failure Means War for Europe Says Gen. Smuts

Lieut. Gen. Jan C. Smuts, Premier of the Union of South Africa, in a statement to the Cape Times on the subject of the Genoa conference would be prayed for victory for Lloyd George, for if all that resulted from the conference was the Russo-German treaty and the division of Europe into two armed camps, Europe would irrevocably split and Genoa would become a new and fatal milestone in European policy.

General Smuts said that if the faith of France and Russia in militarism prevails against the desire of Britain, former neutrals and many late enemies for disarmament, then the policy for disarmament, which Britain is adopting on land and sea, would yet prove a fatal blunder and it was far better for Britain to face realities at once and arm in her turn.

Unless Lloyd George could succeed in modifying the militarist policy of Poincaré and Clitcher, disarmament must disappear throughout Europe. Armageddon would become the only goal of western civilization.

Labor Saving Devices Make For Efficiency. But Kill Individuality

Complaint is made that it is almost impossible to obtain competent watch repairers, the reason being that time pieces are now so largely made by machinery, that it is no one man's business to know all the ins and outs of the delicate mechanism contained therein. So it is that watches, which if properly repaired by competent workmen, would last two or three generations as our father's time pieces did, are now after a few years thrown into the discard and new ones purchased. On the other hand, we have this to counterbalance it. Cheap watches that in the old hand made days, and incidentally more money to buy them with. Whether or not the machine-made watch is as good a time piece as the machine made article we will allow others to judge.

In any event what is happening in respect to watches and watch repairers is going on in nearly all other industries. Take the shoemaker. The old boy who made shoes a generation ago, all by hand, and took an intelligent pride in his craftsmanship, is now about as scarce as the wild pigeon. Possibly he may be still found in the back concessions somewhere, but even that is to be doubted. The modern shoemaker works in a factory. He does one job on a pair of shoes, and probably does it very well, but bless your heart, that is about all he can do.

In the same way the old-time iron worker. He was more often just a plain blacksmith plus brains and art sufficient to turn you out a beautiful pair of wrought iron dogs. But, alas, he is also becoming ever more scarce. And iron is now stamped out in a big factory from a scale pattern. They are machine-made, and they look it. The same thing applies to the printing trade. In the old days, a boy went into a printing office when his comparatively short school days were over. He started at the bottom, and he learned every trick of the craft, from making printer's rollers out of sticky composition to the type, to handle job forms, to general make-up, and so on through the shop, press room and all, until he knew every detail, from beginning to end. Now, however, you have linotype hands, and make-up hands, and press feeders and press men, with here and there a job hand, and mighty few of them know anything of the other man's work.

All this, of course, is efficiency stuff, it runs through all industries, and it can't be rank heresy, but in my humble opinion it also makes work gray and uninteresting. A man in this office puts a stock of envelopes into a feeder, sees that his form is adjusted and pulls a lever. Away they go, eight or nine thousand an hour. All the workman has to do, is to keep the machine filled with material. The machine does the rest.

Take that prince of craftsmen, the carpenter, who has graduated into a cabinet maker. He still exists, I am glad to say, but ever in diminishing numbers. Take the furniture he made years ago and compare it with the machine stuff of today. See how the drawers move in the old-time pieces, and how it holds together in spite of our over-heated, dried-out homes. There is joy in the work of the cabinet maker who sees the artistic results as they grow under his hands 'tilt by tilt. But how of the joy of the factory where you shove a board in at one end of a complicated machine to see it arrive at the other end the completed northeast side of a cabinet, going straight.

Of course this is all part of an old-fashioned idea that there is joy in work. Something beyond the mere stipend that one receives for his labors. But there is also this thought, that while we have gained in production, in cheapness and all that we have at the same time lost something through the introduction of labor-saving devices, a thing that we will perhaps never regain. And that is individuality.—From the Toronto Saturday Night.

Instead of doing things today, the wise man did them yesterday.

Prairie Province Horticulture

Taste Made of Fruits and Flowers at Dominion Experimental Farms

The cultivation of fruit and flowers in the prairie provinces is beset by more difficulties than it is in the eastern provinces and in British Columbia. However, as the provinces become more settled, protection is to some extent provided against the sweeping winds. In many places, trees are now being planted as wind-breaks. At all the Dominion Experimental Farms and Stations some attention is paid both to fruit and flower growing. At Brandon, Man., the average yield from six bushes of Magnolia black currant for three years was 45 lbs. 15 oz., and from Kerry 21 lbs. Red Cross currants gave an average yield from six bushes in the same time of 20 lbs. 8 oz., and Large White currants an average yield from six bushes of 10 oz. Gooseberries, raspberries and strawberries are also included in the tests and promise well. Attempts to produce a hardy standard apple have not hitherto proved successful, but several varieties of crab apple are yielding abundantly. Several hardy varieties of plums are also doing finely. Many perennial flowering plants do well, as do tulips and similar bulbs.

At Brandon, Man., too, ornamental grounds are maintained and give a deal of information to visitors. Tree fruits have not had much success at the Lacombe, Alberta, experimental station, but good results have been obtained with small fruits, including red and black currants, raspberries, gooseberries and strawberries. Many ornamental trees and shrubs and various varieties of perennials are successful there, as well as at the Scott, Saskatchewan, station. No success has been met with apples, but Manitoba plums, brought from Brandon, have thrived. Caragana hedges at Scott have furnished good protection to bush fruits. Black red and white currants have all proved successful. Eclipse and Topsy the best in black currants, Red Cross and Ruby Castle in red, and White Cherry in white. Houghton gooseberries, Sunbeam raspberries and Dakota strawberries have yielded good crops. Several varieties of the same fruits have not done badly. Much valuable information could be obtained by growers by applying to the nearest experimental farm or experimental station, or to the Publications Branch, Ottawa, for copies of the superintendents' reports.

Canadians Did Regular Fighting

Comparison Made on Record in Last Hundred Days of the War

While military defence was under discussion in the House of Commons, Brigadier-General J. A. Clark (Conservative, Burrard, B.C.), compared the work accomplished by the Canadian and United States forces in the last one hundred days of the war, to show how Canadian forces had been benefited by actual war experience.

The United States, said the General, entered the war three years after Canada and therefore was not able to make the showing Canada did. During the last one hundred days the United States had 650,000 men in action and Canada 105,000.

United States troops were engaged for twenty-seven days and Canadian troops for one hundred days. United States battle casualties numbered approximately 100,000, and Canada's approximately 45,000 during the period.

United States troops captured 16,000 prisoners, and Canadian troops 35,000. United States troops captured 486 guns, as compared with 623 by the Canadians; 2,464 machine guns, as compared with 2,842 by the Canadians; 177 trench mortars, as compared with 336. During the last one hundred days, United States troops fired 610 square miles and Canadian troops 500 square miles. Americans advanced 34 miles, as compared with 56 miles advanced by Canadians.

General Clark drew the comparison to show how Canadian forces had been benefited by actual war experience.

Money for Roads

Of the $2,035,923 voted by the Saskatchewan Legislature for public improvements for 1922, approximately $1,570,000 will be spent on roads and large capital bridge this season. It has been announced by J. C. Gardiner, Provincial Minister of Highways, this expenditure will be apportioned as follows: Roads constructed under the Federal aid scheme, $900,000; large steel and concrete bridge, $120,000; main market roads, $550,000.

Pimzie and the Lost Hermit Crab.

LAST week's story told you of Pimzie's enjoyment as he lay in less than an inch of water amongst the pools between the low tide rocks and of his great enjoyment in watching the hermit crabs crawling about there, having perfectly awful miniature fights, and of one particular crab that, having lost his shell (Pimzie mischievously had taken it away), was bustling around trying to find another one through their fight, or any way possible.

How you ever lain among the sandy spots that are exposed at low water and watched the tiny creatures left there by the receding sea? I have, and I soon learned what great fun it is.

I have stayed for hours, or to be quite exact, until the morning tide has sent me home and have been held perfectly fascinated all these hours by the comedies and tragedies that I have watched as they unfolded before me. Try it some time and write me what you have seen and learned.

In the pool where Pimzie lurked, he saw no many hermit crabs that he even fixed up traces and, placing several in line, he bet to himself on which of them would reach a certain place first. He saw the little naked hermit (whose shell he had hidden) rush madly up to several other hermits who were the pleased possessors of comfortable shells of their own and try to fight them out. Pimzie also noticed that he had no luck and scuttled around more madly than ever; after such unsuccessful attempt on his stronger neighbors.

Oh! How Pimzie enjoyed it!

Finally he decided to pull the shell he had hidden back in the exact spot where he had found it, and see what would happen.

I don't know whether it was instinct or what you would call it, but the moment the shell was placed there its owner seemed to know it and hustled back just as fast as he could hustle. He backed up to it and shoved himself back in it. Once in! What a difference in his whole appearance! Instead of the cringing, frightened, little thing he had been, he suddenly became the boldest of the bold. Sitting his forelegs out of the opening of his own beloved and recovered shell, he flashed his sparkling eyes and waved his paws around in ever so threatening a manner, looking for all the world like the lord and master of his own castle. . . or rather shell which is exactly what he was. . . and so bold NOW!

I guess in the delight of being home again he completely forgot that he had outgrown his old shell. He was only too glad to once more be back in it!

As you know, these hermit crabs are helpless without any shell of their own. Their bodies are totally bare and unprotected, so that they must in all necessity find empty and abandoned ones to inhabit. If they can't find empty ones they try to fight out the rightful owners. . . therefore, all the battles.

Pimzie certainly enjoyed himself! What small boy does not enjoy a fight!

When Little Percival arrived at school on the opening day, he carried the following note to the teacher:

"Dear Teacher: Our sweet Little Percival is a very delicate, nervous child, and if he is naughty—and he is likely to be naughty at times—just punish the boy next to him, and that will frighten him so he'll be good."

"Looking Backward"

Some of Bellamy's Predictions Came True Sooner than Expected

When Edward Bellamy, 28 years ago, wrote his fascinating prophecy, "Looking Backward" from the year 2000, people gasped at the daring while appreciating his imagination. In one astounding chapter the "Big Van Winkle" of the narrative is taken to the music room, where he is asked to make known his choice from a very long 34-hour music programme. It indicates an organ piece; his hostess "made me sit down comfortably, and, crossing the room, so far as I could see, merely touched one or two screws, and at once the room was filled with the music of a grand organ anthem."

Such an incredibly prophecy that the Bellamy work was classified in the libraries as "fiction," and so speedily has scientific development occurred that in many libraries it is still "fiction." Yet this is only 1922, not 2000, and by the time the Bellamy era of prediction is reached, who dares to foretell the achievements of men.—The Detroit News.

H. B. Co. to Enter Siberia

Will Open Up Virgin Territory for Trading

The Siberian venture of the Hudson's Bay Company this year is one of great magnitude, and one entire wharf in Vancouver is piled high with trade goods and supplies.

Two Hudson Bay steamers are now loading another will load later in the season, and two others will pick up their cargoes in Japan, making five ships in all. They are taking every conceivable variety of goods from apples to stibers. The two vessels now loading will go to Anadir, Siberian headquarters of the company. The Lady Kildersley sailing from here in June, will go first to Coronation Gulf and Herschel Island near the mouth of Mackenzie River, and will then proceed to Anadir. Besides a number of launches, cut to fit storehouses and residences, and enormous quantities of food are being sent aboard the vessels now loading. The launches will penetrate hundreds of miles up the Siberian rivers where a virgin territory will be opened up.

Lumber Production Value

Figures recently issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show that the 1920 lumber production in Canada was valued at $11,815,925, as compared with $22,328,375 in 1919. Of the 1920 total sawn lumber accounted for $168,368,437; lath, $5,248,979; shingles, $14,696,129; other mill products, $1,498,704; and forest products, $118,004,112. Cedar, spruce, Douglas fir, white pine, birch, maple and hemlock were the most important woods used.

These are the days when the American people are learning geography, and must continue to learn it if they are to prosper and keep their place in the world. We are just beginning to absorb the geography of the Pacific, thanks to the Washington conference, but many of us still have a confused mental picture of as important a factor in the Pacific as Australia. We rather picture it as a bush-grown desert island inhabited by soldiers with brim-titled Stetson hats, naked blackfellows and kangaroos.

This impression has been absolutely changed for those who heard Senator George Foster Pease, Australian delegate to the Arms Conference, address the great banquet of the English-speaking Union at the Drake. Senator Pease portrayed his country as "another big English-speaking Commonwealth fronting on the United States, with the same lack of international consciousness, and the same ambition to maintain peace and the status quo."

Australia is a vast island, 97 per cent. of size of the continental United States. Its lucky number seems to be 97, for 97 per cent. of its population of 5,500,000 souls are of English descent. It is therefore a great unsettled country, thinly populated by English-speaking white men. It is rich in resources and vigorous in its national life; its noblest troops in the late war numbered close to half a million, of whom 300,000 went overseas and 60,000 were killed. It is a determined scrappy community, with which no one not prepared for big trouble would be apt to take any liberties.

The Australian Commonwealth though part of the British Empire, is a self-governing democracy more dominated by labor than any other British dominion. Senator Pease, who, though a comparatively young man, must be counted one of her elder statesmen, having been a member of the Dominion Senate since its founding in 1901, began his working life as a carpenter, and was afterward an organizer of defense (their name for secretary of war and the navy combined), has acted as head of the Government in the absence of Premier Hughes, and has represented Australia at conferences of the Empire and at the Washington conference. Over here we wouldn't trust a carpenter so far.

This power wants stability in the Pacific. Just as we do and Canada does. Its greatest spaces are only a few days sailing from the crowded hordes of Asia, but are five weeks from Great Britain. The Australians and Canadians are our kind of people, with problems like America's and with the same desire for peace and steadiness in which to work them out. These Commonwealths are more and more dominating British policy in the Pacific and will continue to do so. It is therefore very largely with them that we are asked to co-operate in the Washington treaties. If we can't trust democracies of "regular fellows" like ourselves, we must make up our minds to draw our head into our shell and live the life of a turtle.—Chicago Evening Post.

Asleep at the Switch

A man who believed he knew all about parrots undertook to teach what he thought to be a young mute bird in the cage. He was doing up to his cage, he repeated that word in a clear voice for several minutes, the parrot paying not the slightest attention. At the final "Hello!" the tired bird opened one eye, gazed at the man and snapped out: "Line's busy!"

But Not Vice Versa

When Little Percival arrived at school on the opening day, he carried the following note to the teacher:

"Dear Teacher: Our sweet Little Percival is a very delicate, nervous child, and if he is naughty—and he is likely to be naughty at times—just punish the boy next to him, and that will frighten him so he'll be good."

MY CANADA

— BY —
ELINOR MARSDEN ELIOT

III. Winnipeg, June 6th, 19—

I have just returned from a shopping expedition taken in company with Mrs. Arnold and Mary. I really needed nothing; but they told me that shopping in Winnipeg is as interesting, as instructive, and almost as expensive as European travel, so of course I went with them.

We went first of all to the Hudson's Bay Stores. Fresh from the reading of Agnes C. Laut's "Lords of the North," I was rather disappointed to see an up-to-date departmental store where I had more than half expected to find a log fort with cannon guarding the gates.

However, Mary, who under a mixture of prosaic common sense and responsible nononsense is blessed (I'll say with a romantic temperament, tell me there is an indescribable unmistakable characteristic, almost everywhere in all Hudson's Bay Stores, whether they be of the modern or of the pioneer type. This she explains, is due to the peculiar odour that is found in them all, an odour of smoke-stained leather, fish, and the home-made tobacco smoked by the Indians and half-breeds.

"You may laugh if you please," she said in response to Mrs. Arnold's self-deprecating smile, "but I am sure that I, blundered, could pick out a Hudson's Bay Store at a hundred yards! I have been in five, and the same perfume—to be polite—hangs over them all. I like it, but I can imagine that

Headache

Recurring headaches usually come from an exhaustion of the nervous system, and they do not disappear until the vigor of the nerve cells is restored by such up-building treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Temporary relief by use of powders is often obtained at an enormous expense to the nervous system and the general health.

Get the nerves right and the headaches will not return.

Mrs. W. J. Pearce, Nunn St., Cobourg, Ont., writes:

"My system became run-down and I suffered greatly with pain in my head. This was so severe that I would have to hold a cloth tightly about my head so that I could get my work done. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after taking the first box I found quite an improvement in my condition. I continued using them until I had taken about seven boxes, and they strengthened and built up my system splendidly, completely relieving the pain in my head."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

to the uninitiated it might be anything but pleasant."

Probably the damp climate of England has blunted my sense of smell. At any rate, I was not able to reconstruct the old fur-trading days on the strength of it.

From the Hudson's Bay we went to Eaton's—a truly marvelous shop where one can buy anything from a major of pips to a motor-car. But the most interesting thing I saw was the promised substitute for European travel; this was a party of Galician women, in their native costumes, who gathered around a bargain counter on which was displayed "Canadian clothes" of the most violent colours. One smart maiden, who had evidently been in Canada for some time, was acting as guide and interpreter to her country cousins, and I could not but be struck by how much nicer the others looked than she. Miss Sophistication wore a very tight skirt, a bright purple blouse with a very low Dutch neck and very short sleeves, and I am sure that her hat was trimmed by a landscape gardener. But I suppose she felt happy in the knowledge that she no longer looked the peasant—and perhaps the next generation will learn to choose clothes to suit their short, squat figures and broad faces.

I know that I am committing a platitude when I speak of Winnipeg as a cosmopolitan city. Perhaps it is better to quote Mary again, and say that the hardest thing to find in Winnipeg is a Canadian.

In addition to the immigrants from the British Isles, one sees on the street various tribes, or clans, or whatever the proper term is, from Russia; French; Germans; Italians in great numbers, who are, according to Mr. Arnold, excellent citizens—no "Black Hand" outrages here; Chinese men and boys; Jewish rabbis in their ceremonial dress; Greek Church dignitaries—everything, in fact, but the painted, be-feathered, and blanket-clad Red Indian, whom I quite expected to meet at every turn. I have not yet seen an Indian.

But I have wandered a long way from Eaton's.

After Mr. Arnold had finished his shopping, we went up to the lunch room that is one of the most peculiar features of the "big store," and there Mr. Arnold met us and we all had luncheon together.

Mr. Arnold had brought with him a young, very young, Englishman, Mr. Hoyt, and I shall never again be surprised that the English are not always popular in Canada. Mr. Hoyt was with us for an hour, and during that time he never spoke but to criticize Canada, its people, its customs, its climate, its architecture—even the luncheon we were eating! He is only a boy, and he is evidently very homesick, but he might have had the good taste to consider the Arnolds, and to keep his grumbling for the ears of his countrymen. Only once he had the grace to look thoroughly ashamed of himself.

"Canadians," he had sneered, "there is no such thing as a Canadian, unless one happens to be an Indian. You are all either English or Irish or Scotch or—"

"Pardon me, Mr. Hoyt," Mary broke in, "you call yourself English, and yet you told me that your grandparents were German. My grandparents, all four of them, were born in Canada. Why may I not call myself a Canadian?"

Well done, Mary. I must say that the loyalty of the Canadian-born to Canada came as a surprise to me. We in the Old Land too often look upon the colonies merely as places in which one can make enough money to live upon at home. Canadians, on the other hand, are loyal to the Empire to the British Constitution—whatever it is—and to the traditions of their forefathers, but what for lack of a better name I shall call their "personal loyalty" belongs to the land of their birth.

Perhaps I can give no better example of this than Mr. Arnold. I was with him a great deal when he was in England, and I am ashamed to say that he knew a great deal more of Britain's history and legend than I do. And yet last week I saw that grey-haired man stand speechless and bare-headed before the Little Monument that marks the grave of the Winnipeggers who fell in the North-West Rebellion—raw volunteers who by their gallant and fearless conduct won from the enemy the name by which the 90th Regiment is still affectionately known, "The Little Black Devils." I suppose that not one person out of a thousand at home has so much as heard of the North-West Rebellion. I was one of the nine hundred and ninety-nine; but I realize now that Canada has earned her right to a place among the nations—not independent of the Motherland, but in her dependence owing a distinct personality. As Mary quoted to-day,

"A Nation spoke to a Nation,
And a Queen sent word to a Throne.
Daughter am I in my Mother's house
But mistress in my own."

Lord Northcliffe Says Embargo On Cattle An Insult To Canada

London.—Declaring that he was very glad that he declined to become a member of the Coalition Government of Great Britain, if only because he would not want to be "one of those who helped to begin the end of the British Empire by losing the prairie provinces of Canada," Lord Northcliffe devoted the greater part of an address at a luncheon of the Empire Press Union to condemning the "great slur we place upon the people of Canada" by the embargo on the importation of Canadian store cattle. Lord Northcliffe is honorary-treasurer of the Empire Press Union.

Lord Northcliffe said: "We are not watching Canada closely enough, especially as to what is happening in the prairie provinces. One of the cleverest men I ever met, Lord Shaftesbury, said to me 20 years ago: 'I wonder if I am right in thinking that the future of the empire is largely wrapped up in what happens in Alberta and Saskatchewan.'"

Continuing, Lord Northcliffe said: "I don't blame the British people for not giving attention to Canadian affairs. If I were issuing papers in New York—which God forbid—I should not give much attention to affairs in Australia or New Zealand, but should concentrate, as the American papers now very largely do, on the more interesting foreign affairs of the moment. Englishmen often very frankly say they are bored with this matter of the great slur we place upon the people of Canada by reason of the embargo on their cattle. One or two public men, Lord Leverbrooke in particular, have realized this problem. I have not his knowledge of Canada, though I certainly share his admiration for Canada."

"Canadians are not a very noisy people. We did not hear much about them" going into the war, but they went in, and when there, they did great things. They are not talking very much about the embargo, except in the prairie provinces, which are far removed from Montreal and other great news centres. "I assure you that while you can say to Canadians: 'You shall not enter our house,' you cannot say to them 'you shall not enter because you have a loathsome disease.' I have talked about this repeatedly with English stock breeders. It is purely a question of protection. Formerly it was a concession to the Irish, but it is no longer an Irish question at all. This thing affects the reputation of every Canadian farmer."

English Second Official Language
London.—The assembly of the International Institute of Agriculture has decided to adopt English as the second official language for the institute bulletin, says Reuters' Rome correspondent. Crop reports will be distributed by telegraph to the various countries that are members of the institute.

Floods Cause Immense Damage

Assiniboine River Overflows Banks and Ruins Crops

Winnipeg.—Heavy rains have contributed to a further rise of the Assiniboine River and protecting dykes along its banks have been swept away and the water is now creeping over thousands of seeded acres hitherto out of danger.

A fleet of flat boats has been put into operation in the Poplar Point area, and farmers are paddling to and fro from town releasing many persons who had been marooned in the upper stories of their homes. Four thousand acres of seeded land is now under water there. Farmers in many districts are driving their cattle to the bush and removing their valuables to safe spots in the hills.

For a 12-mile strip, three miles wide, the river has overflowed its banks at Berthville. Houses, barns, in this district, are leaving their homes and seeking shelter in the highlands near Marquette. With the help of nearby farmers they have driven their cattle to the hills. The prospect of a crop estimated at $500,000 has been washed away, 40 sections of seeded land being inundated.

Bringing Big Sugar Shipment to Canada

Cargo of 6,600 Tons Largest Ever Shipped from Jamaica

Kingsport, Jamaica.—The Canadian Pacific steamer Montezuma sailed for Montreal with 6,600 tons of sugar, the largest cargo of sugar ever shipped from this island. To date Canada has purchased over 75 per cent of the sugar crop of Jamaica.

About a year ago Canada extended to Jamaica a customs preference similar to that granted to other portions of the British West Indies some years ago. During the first nine months of the Canadian preference, imports of Jamaica coffee and cocoa trebled, grapefruit quadrupled, spices, hides and skins doubled, while vegetable oils increased fourteen fold and raw sugar went up 4,000,000 pounds. About six weeks ago the Jamaica Legislature ratified a measure granting a customs preference on Canadian products, but the preference in most cases is only five per cent.

VIOLENT STORM IN EASTERN MANITOBA

CYCLONIC WIND CAUSES GREAT DAMAGE TO DISTRICT EAST OF WINNIPEG

Winnipeg.—Striking Manitoba at a point near Gino, about 30 miles east of Winnipeg, a cyclone swept farm barns from their foundations, wrecked a number of houses, blew down transmission towers of the Winnipeg Electric Company and the city hydro system, causing Winnipeg to be entirely without electric power for two hours; took down telegraph wires on both the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National systems, isolating the city from Eastern Canada by telegraphic communication for several hours and caused damage generally which will run into many thousands of dollars.

Reports state that several persons had been injured, but no fatalities were caused so far as could be ascertained.

Montreal.—Mayor James Grassick, of Regina, presented the White Star Dominion liner Regina with a replica of the city's coat of arms at a luncheon aboard the new passenger liner. Nearly three hundred agents and friends of the company were entertained.

Increase in Food Prices
Washington.—An upward trend in the retail cost of food was noted in statistics made public by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor. Reports from 15 cities showed increases from March 15 to April 15, ranging up to three per cent, while only four reported decreases and only one of these, Fall River, with two per cent, showing more than one-half of one per cent decline.

Vancouver Wants Drydock

Essential to City's Progress Opinion of Board of Trade

Vancouver.—As the result of action taken at a special meeting of the Board of Trade here, at which it was the unanimous opinion that a drydock for Vancouver is essential to the future progress of the city, a telegram was sent to the Government at Ottawa by President R. Kerr Houlgate, urging the Federal authorities to continue the subsidy to the drydock here as arranged for by the late Government, so that the work of construction can be proceeded with.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King is also being informed that the board is arranging a mass meeting of all the municipalities and organizations in the lower mainland of the province to discuss plans for further efforts toward securing a drydock for this port.

Will Surmount Difficulties

King Assures Belgium of British Empire's Sympathy

Brussels.—King Albert gave a banquet in the palace to King George and Queen Mary. In toasting his royal visitors, King Albert said Belgium still was suffering from the destruction and the economic troubles caused by the war. The king added that Belgium needs at the same time, reparations, peace, work and security, a complex necessity which had determined the policy Belgium had resolved to pursue in full agreement with her allies.

Replying, King George said if there was one thing certain in the uncertain epoch which the world was passing, it was that the difficulties of Belgium could rapidly be surmounted, thanks to the wisdom of Belgian statesmen and the indomitable vitality of the Belgian people. He added that in her progress towards the great future ahead of her Belgium always would have the sympathy of the British Empire, which fought beside her in the war.

Krupps Entitled to Royalties

Washington.—The American Government finds itself under the revived patent treaty with Germany faced with the necessity of paying royalties which may reach $5,000,000 to the Krupp firm on patents based on discoveries of American engineers, Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, declared.

Will Not Fight Unless Compelled

Tien Tsin.—Chang Tso Lin, the defeated Manchurian General, is reported to have fled to Dairen. Observers say his troops have established three lines of trenches this side of Lunchow, on the Mukden railway south of the Great Wall, but will only fight if General Wu Pei-fu's forces press them too hard.

London.—The Government was again sharply attacked in the House of Commons for failing to protect the three British officers recently kidnapped in Ireland. Austen Chamberlain, the Government leader, replying, repeated that General Sir Nevill Macready, the British commander in Ireland, had seen representatives of both parties but they had all assured him they knew nothing about the incident although they were doing their utmost to ascertain the facts of the case.

Mr. Chamberlain admitted that a grave issue was before the House—whether the Government should decide that the experiment in Ireland had been tried long enough and whether the Government, acting under a sense of horror at certain murders should declare the treaty at an end and stop it and assume once more the duty of preserving law and order throughout Ireland. He had thought deeply about these outrages but begged parliament to think of the larger issue, and even amid the pain and anguish of these incidents keep their eyes fixed on the great result which might yet be obtained and which would mean accession of unity and strength to the empire.

Mr. Chamberlain appealed earnestly for a continuance of the experiment. He believed that the power and influence of the provisional government were increasing and that, given a little time, the provisional government would secure a mandate from the Irish people and establish its authority throughout the 26 counties.

"For heaven's sake," Mr. Chamberlain continued, "after the bitter experience of the past, let us give the provisional government a chance. We shall not save the lives of loyal subjects in Ireland by resuming what must be civil war that could only end in subjection, not in reconciliation."

The motion for adjournment on which the debate was raised, was defeated 258 to 64.

King George Eulogises Heroism of Nurse

Deposits Wreath on Spot Where Edith Cavell Was Executed

Brussels.—The heroism and self-sacrifice of Edith Cavell were extolled by King George of Great Britain who with Queen Mary is here for a state visit to King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium. The British King laid a wreath of oak leaves, Belgium, French and British flags upon the spot where the British nurse, a large number of Frenchmen, and three Belgians, were executed during the war by the Germans.

As he deposited the wreath, King George said Miss Cavell left the world an imperishable legacy of courage and devotion which had a counterpart in the martyrdom of Joan of Arc.

Grain Buyers Demand Inquiry

Saskatoon district grain buyers organised the first local of the Order of Grain Buyers last week, and demanded immediate appointment of a Royal Grain Inquiry Commission with full power to probe every phase of the grain business, especially charges already made, so that the gravest abuses can be exposed and remedied before the marketing of this year's crop.

The Order will prepare a definite schedule of remuneration for buyers. Members claim that in the past their contracts with grain firms have only been binding on themselves and could be cancelled at will by their employers, and express themselves as determined to correct this injustice at once. The Order will make a standard form of bond for grain buyers to be approved by the Grain Commission.

A radio broadcasting station will be established at the union's Moose Jaw headquarters, for the purpose of keeping in touch with all members of the order.

Secretary Sullivan declared that 95 per cent of the farmers of Western Canada want the grain inquiry continued to a finish. Farmers will be asked to sell their grain only to elevators employing union buyers; or otherwise to ship their grain over the loading platform, because, he said, any company which refused to abide by the operating principles of the Order of Grain Buyers was declaring itself as out to "do" the farmers.

Reduction in Fair Prize Lists.

Following a decision by the Executive of the Alberta Fairs Association, a special committee of the Executive has just completed work on a standard prize list for all fairs in the C, D & E classes, which will reduce to a certain extent, by elimination of duplications, the amount of prize money paid out at fairs. This standard prize list has been issued in pamphlet form and maximums are fixed as follows:

C class maximum for horses and cattle, first prize $15, for sheep and swine first prize $8.

D class maximum for horses and cattle first prize $10, for sheep and swine, first prize $5.

E class maximum for horses and cattle, first prize $8, for sheep and swine, first prize $4.

In addition to the elimination of many duplications regulations have also been approved which provide that no grant shall be paid for poultry exhibits at summer fairs where winter poultry shows are also held, that no prizes should be offered for threshed grain at summer fairs. Sheaf grain only should be recognized, grain to be forfeited in cases of fairs permitting gambling, objectionable games or immoral exhibitions on the grounds during fairs.

Lady's 'Bank' Sprung Aleak.

Regarding the loss of a considerable sum of money by a young Mountain View lady recently, facts are now available, says the Blairmore Enterprise. A sum was withdrawn from the Bank of Montreal and re-deposited in the "first national." Later, when the young lady sought a needed spot to make a withdrawal to pay for some purchases, she discovered that the bank had sprung aleak, the bigness of the wad having chafed a large hole in the delicate fabric, and not that any form of robbery had taken place.

More Fairy Stories Needed.

Mrs. Groves, a recent acquisition to The Toronto School Board, in an address at an educational meeting in that city said:—"There is nothing in the school textbooks to make the pupils laugh. There is plenty of tragedy, such as the 'Incubus Rock,' 'Lord Ullin's Daughter,' and 'The Burial of Moses.' These may be all good literature, but they are not the kind of stuff to put up to children. Charlie Chaplin and the colored supplements of the newspapers are so interesting to the children because they appeal to their sense of humor—I think that sort of humor is horrible, but it goes to show what children are interested in and we would do well to put more humor and more fairy stories in the school books."

Death to the Gophers.

For the month of April, the New Salem school district board set aside $10.00 to be paid to the school scholars, a penny a tail for destroying gophers. A grand round up of 1040 tails was made. One pupil came first with a total of 311, another second with 161, and another third with 97. The board decided, very wisely, to pay each student in full for the results accomplished. This would appear to be a very good scheme and one which might be adopted profitably by other school districts.

Produce Dealers' Permit.

After the end of June all produce merchants in the province of Alberta must be licensed, in accordance with the legislation passed at the last session of the legislature.

According to the Produce Merchants' Act of 1922, all produce merchants must register and obtain a license from the department of agriculture, at Edmonton, application forms for which will be available from the department and the applications will require the approval of the minister of agriculture.

The act does not apply to any person bonded under the provisions of the Canada Grain act or the Live Stock and Live Stock Products Act 1917, in respect of the transaction of any business covered by a bond given under the provision of either of such acts, nor to any retail merchant in respect of the transaction of his ordinary business as such.

A Double Escape

DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER'S STORY.

Another Toronto home provides evidence of how a simple cut, scratch or bruise, may prove the way to deadly blood-poison. Doesn't it show there's a vital need for keeping a reliable antiseptic like zam-buk, always handy?

When called upon at 8, Business Avenue, Mrs. J. E. Zealley, daughter of the late Dr. Bevan, of St. David's, S. Wales, said: "My boy Alfred scratched his leg with the brass leg of a shoe lace. A nasty poison soon developed and it defied all the usual treatments. Hearing splendid reports about zam-buk I decided to give it a trial. To my great relief, the pain soon ceased, healing to set in. All inflammation and poisonous matter was quickly removed by zam-buk. It healed the sore without leaving a scar."

"Again when I fell over a steel fender and injured my knee badly, zam-buk alone cured me. My daughter, a nurse, was of the opinion that only an operation could remove the mass of inflammation and pus. But I again pinned my faith in zam-buk, and it cleansed and healed the wound in a few days." Equally valuable for eczema, pimples, cuts, burns, etc.

RHEUMATISM?

Health is the Most Valuable Asset You Have. You Cannot Afford to Neglect It

Crofton, B. C.—"I was troubled for years with inflammatory rheumatism and rheumatic fever. I tried several remedies, but did not receive any benefit from any of them. I had been in the hospital for months, being unable to walk. A friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Ankle Tablets. After taking the first bottle I began to improve, and after taking six bottles I had no more rheumatism. I think Dr. Pierce's Ankle is the most wonderful medicine that any one can take for rheumatism. It has recommended to my friends and they, too, have all been benefited by them."—Merville Collinson.

People are realizing that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances.

This can be avoided by stimulating the kidneys to increased action, and because of its tonic effect on these organs any one would do well to get Dr. Pierce's Ankle Tablets which are to be had nowadays at almost any drug store or sent for to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeport, Ont., for postal package and write for free, confidential medical advice.

Ways of Measuring

How Lloyd George Got Even With the Chairman

A correspondent sends us the following little anecdote illustrating Lloyd George's ready wit. On one occasion when he was to address a meeting in South Wales, the chairman, thinking to humiliate the speaker's expense, said in introducing him, "I heard so much about Dr. Lloyd George that I naturally expected to meet a big man in every sense but, as you can see, he is very small in stature."

Lloyd George arose. "I am glad to find," he said, "that your chairman is disappointed in my size, but this is the way you have here of measuring a man. In North Wales we measure a man from his chin up, but you evidently measure him from his chin down."

After that the chairman made no more personal remarks.

Horse Valued at $55,000 Sent to Royal Ranch in Alberta

Four pure-bred race horse stallions and five mares have recently been shipped by the Prince of Wales from England to his ranch at Bedford, Alta., which he bought when he visited Canada in the summer of 1919. One of these stallions was purchased in England recently for $5,000. Since His Royal Highness has had his Alberta ranch he has made several shipments of pure-bred stock from the Old Country. The last consignment of horses was sent over in charge of a special staff from one of his English farms.

I gave them to my little girl with such good results that I now strongly recommend them to all mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Method Adopted by Farmer to Protect His Fruit Crop

A photograph that acts as a policeman has been rigged up by a fruit farmer in the United States in his orchard. This is the way he worked it. He rigged up an old photograph inside an unused beehive and had a record made of the fierce barking of dogs. Then he connected the machine by an electric wire with the heads of pupils in between times while they are applying the paint on the surface. —The Christian Herald.

Save the Surface

America Spends Almost as Much on Cosmetics as on Education. The American people spend annually $750,000,000 for face powder, cosmetics and permenities and $1,000,000,000 for education. It is interesting to note that the amount America spends annually for face powder and its accessories is almost as much as she spends for her entire educational system. Looks as if America thought about as much of the outside of her head as of the inside. And as a matter of astonishing fact, the amount actually spent by America for face paint annually exceeds all she pays for the salaries of the teachers in all the high schools who are trying to get something into the heads of pupils in between times while they are applying the paint on the surface. —The Christian Herald.

German Money Makers

Presses and Engravers' Inadequate to Meet Demand

A terrible tragedy has transpired in the German Government's bureau of engraving and printing. Plates cannot be engraved fast enough and presses run so slow that it takes over a thousand paper money notes. Germany's paper note printing presses have reached their physical limit and the demand for paper money still greatly exceeds the supply.

Solving the dilemma, the German Government for the first time in the history of the mark has decided to print and issue 5,000-mark notes, which are much easier manufactured than the impressive 1,000-mark bills. The new 5,000-mark notes will appear on the market in the course of the summer. Germany's largest monetary unit, the one thousand mark note, is worth at today's rate of exchange $3.50, and the smallest paper note, that of 1 mark, is worth 3/16 mill.

Alberta as a Seed Producer

Where Oats and Other Cereals Reach State of Perfection

Alberta, it is officially stated, has supplied the rest of Canada with a half million bushels of seed oats this spring. It is equally significant that orders came from every other province in the Dominion. As a seed producer this province is only getting started, but it is getting started right, and is already securing results. Alberta oats stand in a class by themselves; no other part of the continent can produce either the quality or the quantity per acre. What is true of oats is true of other grains, and of grasses and vegetables. We may not grow here as wide a variety of crops as is possible in more southerly latitudes and lower altitudes, but what can be grown is grown to perfection. More and more the older provinces and the states will recognize that they must come to Alberta for hardy and virile seed. Much credit for what has been attained, and for the greater achievement in prospect, is due to the persistent and successful efforts which have been made by the faculty of agriculture at the University to interest Alberta farmers in seed-growing and to direct their operations in a way to build up a high reputation for their product. And the showing made last year and the year before, when Alberta exhibits carried away a good many of the coveted awards at the International Hay and Grain show at Chicago, has not been barren of practical results. It pays to produce the best; and then to let the world know that we have it.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Lumsden, Saskatchewan.—"My mother had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and when I needed something for my periods I took it and got good results. Comet's "Annual."

That Comet will have its One Big Day on Wednesday next, on the occasion of its annual picnic, goes without saying.

The committee has arranged to have a steer-riding contest, in which there will be a number of contenders, with Mr R Kincart as the leading artist. There will be bucking contests, foot races for everybody, tug-of-war, baseball games, football games, catching the greased pig, Highland dances, and all the other little extras which a Comet Picnic Committee has the reputation of arranging for.

Owing to it being a much more suitable place for the accommodation of the expected big crowd; the picnic this year will be held at the Luga Corner.

Among the buckers, "Plum Gentle," our old friend of last year, will be present, and give the broncho busters another chance.

In order not to disappoint the crowd too greatly, in the event of the Trained Elephant not being able to make the trip down owing to tender feet, it has been arranged that the Master of Ceremonies, in frock coat and top hat, will ride around the grounds standing on one leg.

Stony Plain and District

Colin G. Groat and Mr. Foley, the poultry expert, from Edmonton, were in town Monday.

Mr. Kowalski was a business visitor to the City Tuesday; John H. Miller and John Schrumm, were in yesterday.

Mr. Henry Sinner has gone into partnership with Mr. Jos. Rivest, and is performing in Joe's comedians and up to date Tonsorial Parlor.

A party of photographers from McDermaid's Engraving Co. were at the Demonstration Farm on Monday, taking moving pictures of the cattle.

There is entertainment for everybody on Wednesday next, Victoria Day, what with the Comet Picnic in the afternoon, and the event of the season, the Bachelors' Ball, in the evening at Stony.
